We offer building automation, energy, and preventive maintenance services for healthcare and pharmaceutical clients. Our customized solutions, designed for the unique needs of these highly specialized facilities, help optimize building performance, increasing efficiency and productivity.

Optimized Power Quality

When you have an unreliable or unstable power supply, it can cause everything from device and equipment malfunctions to complete outages. In healthcare environments, your operations are mission critical, and outages are unacceptable.

Our electrical power and distribution services help medical facilities maintain a steady power supply, avoid unplanned outages, and optimize power quality for their critical equipment. Our team has extensive experience powering healthcare environments and can implement a range of solutions to help ensure reliability and function.

One Source for All Your Building HVAC Controls

Our team furnishes, installs, and supports environmental control systems and software, helping maintain consistent indoor conditions for your critical processes.

Automating room temperature, humidity, air exchange, and pressurization helps free up your team to focus on what's most important to them — patient care.

Integrated Data Networks

We offer a number of solutions that meet the unique data and network demands of healthcare environments and essential medical software.

Our expertise can help your IT infrastructure:

- > Maintain reliable power and efficient cooling
- > Support specialized software applications for screening, triage, lab, and ICU areas
- > Scale networks rapidly and compute in temporary spaces
- > Manage cybersecurity threats and protect sensitive data
